1. Background

YTP was formed in January 2017 to conduct a yacht manufacturing and assembly business from leased premises at Krešimirova 147, Vranjic, 21211. The shareholders were Geoffrey Mayhill, Don Marshall, Grant Willis and Chadelus d.o.o. The Directors were Geoffrey Mayhill and Don Marshall and Ivica Viljc the Procurist.

1.1. Bavaria Yachtbau GmbH (Bavaria)

On 18 April 2017 YTP entered a master agreement with Bavaria of Giebelstadt, Germany (the Bavaria Agreement) under which YTP agreed to build, sell and deliver a series of boats including at least 3 boats in 2017 and a minimum of 5 boats each subsequent year. (Annex 1) The first boats to be built under the Bavaria Agreement were the 19.45m C65 sailing boat and the 16.71m R55 Motor Boat. The C65 (Bavaria production name SE80) and the R55 (Bavaria production name ME20) were respectively the largest sail boat and the largest motor boat Bavaria had brought to the market. Each was likely to be disruptive to the Bavaria production lines in Giebelstadt and to require build technologies and skills that its production line workers did not possess. For these and other reasons Bavaria contracted to outsource the builds to YTP.

Despite the contractual assurances as to the volume of boats and the clear marketing commitment Bavaria had made to the sale of the C65 and the R55, the Directors were wary of pricing based on assured volumes of uncommitted orders. For this reason the Bavaria Agreement was negotiated to create a time and materials cost plus contract for the build and sale of each Yacht.

Bavaria agreed to purchase and supply all the main components of equipment for the boats and deliver them to the YTP Yard. This included engines, generators, fiberglass, electronics, furniture, bathroom and kitchen fittings and equipment etc.

Because there was no committed volume the Directors insisted that Bavaria also agree to cover the indirect costs of building the Yachts and operating the facilities. The Bavaria Agreement provides that Bavaria would make quarterly payments in advance on account of the indirect costs. The indirect costs could be spread across the boats so the more boats Bavaria ordered the lower the cost per boat but in any event Bavaria contracted to cover the total cost.

Bavaria initially placed orders for 1 C65 and 1 R55 and immediately exerted pressure to have the boats ready to present at the Dusseldorf Boat show in February 2018. Despite this pressure, Bavaria was late supplying equipment, late in making stage payments and late making payments of indirect costs. Bavaria also disputed the supervision costs even though the amount was clearly set out and adopted other payment delaying tactics.

Despite the friction and difficulties caused by late payments and equipment supplies, and whilst not finished both boats were shown in Dusseldorf as the centre piece of the Bavaria Hall and received a positive reception. The boats were then returned to the Yard in Vranjic for completion and launch. This exercise took 6 weeks of build time and left the construction facility standing idle putting cashflow pressure on YTP. It did, however, result in Bavaria receiving multiple orders (10 plus) and placing orders with YTP for 2 further C65s (C65-02 & C65-03) and a further R55-02

The delivery of the first 2 boats on 19 April 2018 was very strained and at first we could not understand the Bavaria behaviour. We had significant difficult receiving payments but insisted on full payment before allowing the boats to leave the dock. We could not understand the arrangements for moving the boats from the dock and holding them off site for a night before being loaded on a transport vessel that was directly opposite the dock in the North harbour. We did not understand why Bavaria had a third party crew receive the boats on delivery given that YTP management had operated the boats from launch including during sea trials.

The crew ran both boats out from the dock together then, the next day - 20 April 2018, Bavaria announced that it had entered Self Administration, a form of bankruptcy or insolvency procedure in Germany (Annex 2). This explained the strange behaviours but left YTP in crisis. It had commenced work on C65-02 and R55-02 and had substantial unpaid work in progress and outstanding accounts. It had built up its team and resources and taken additional space on lease that was suddenly left idle.

1.2. Bavaria Settlement

On 15 September 2018, Bavaria was sold out of the administration to CMP Capital, a fund that said it specialises in acquisition of distressed companies and turnaround opportunities. CMP formed a new company to take the Bavaria business and essentially walked away from many of the Bavaria creditors including YTP. As a matter of strategy CMP wanted to take production of the R55 back to Germany. It therefore wanted the moulds and tooling plus all equipment but was not prepared to pay YTP. Bavaria was again financially secure and aware of the financial pressures YTP was under so sought to use this to maximise its position in the negotiations.

In this context we agreed to trade the R55 moulds and tooling and equipment for R55-03 and beyond in return for ownership of R55-02 including the associated equipment and materials plus the moulds and tooling plus all equipment for the C65 series and C65-02 that was in production. The Bavaria Settlement Agreement is dated 14 September 2018. (Annex 3).

In the Settlement it was agreed that:

- YTP may complete and sell R55-02 to Gena Yacht (a Bavaria dealer based in Turkey) or another person. YTP was in parallel discussions with Clipper Yachts a Bavaria dealer in the UK. It was also agreed that R55-02 could be badged as a Bavaria R55;

- YTP could build and sell C65-02 to Yachtagentur Meltl, a Bavaria dealer based in Germany and that the boat could be badged as a Bavaria C65;

- Bavaria assigned the C65, the C65 Tooling and the C65 IPR to YTP;

- All Materials & Equipment for the C65 series of boats and R55-02 belong to YTP; and

- The Parties agree not to take any steps or enforce any rights to prevent or discourage any person (including any supplier, sales agent or buyer) from doing business with the other. In particular this meant that Bavaria would not enforce any exclusivity provisions or discourage its dealers from doing business with YTP or selling YTP built boats including the C65.

Meltl completed the purchase of C65-02 but Gena and Clipper pulled out of negotiations for the R55 without explanation. YTP contacted multiple Bavaria Dealers with a brochure but no other dealer would work with YTP. (Annex 4) Our suspicion is that despite the express provisions of the Settlement, Bavaria pressured its dealers not to work with YTP.

1.3. Brunswick Boats

Brunswick of the US is a world leader in recreational boats, marine engines and marine parts and accessories. It is, is one of the longest continually publicly-traded companies on the New York Stock Exchange. Its brands include Boston Whaler, Bayliner, Quicksilver, Searay and Mercury.

On 1 August 2017 YTP contracted with Brunswick to build boats over a 5 year period. (Annex 5) Brunswick agreed to provide almost everything required to build the boats other than consumables. The pricing was tight so YTP had to be very efficient. However as an incremental business line with a professional counterparty that contributed to overhead, this was judged to be a valuable contract.

We experienced some difficulty ramping up the staff numbers to meet Brunswick demand. We received orders of the Quicksilver 855 WE model. Brunswick would provide an annual forecast of demand and said that we could take the first 3 months as firm. The forecast for 2018 was 34 boats. Throughout the contract the Brunswick demand exceeded our capacity to produce boats.

This was a tough contract with exacting standards and payment 100% on delivery. That said Brunswick provided a lot of support and all the equipment on a timely basis. They paid promptly.

The contract terminated when the YTP accounts were blocked.

1.4. Rand Boats

Rand Boats is a Danish company that says it combines technology with design and a focus on clean energy. YTP contracted with Rand on 21 March 2017 (Annex 6), initially for the build of its Picnic series of electric powered boats. Rand was to provide all the equipment and components for the build of the boats. In the first phase YTP agreed a fixed price for the boats but experienced persistent equipment and payment delays and other problems. Rand by subsequent admission, had cashflow difficulties.

We then renegotiated effective 27 April 2018the terms and the contract was restated to a time and materials cost plus basis. In the same agreement we agreed a settlement of certain payment arrears. (Annex 7). Rand then terminated the agreement on 17 May 2018. It would seem that Rand did not enter negotiation of the Restated Agreement in good faith but rather that it was part of a strategy to reduce the contract exit costs.

Having been presented with this situation, we negotiated the best deal we could for payments and released the remaining boats, materials and tooling.

1.5. Outer Reef Yachts

Outer Reef Trident Inc. (ORT) contracted with Abel Yachts Limited (Abel) for the build of the Trident motor yachts. Abel sub-contracted the work to Zephyr Tehnologije d.o.o. (Zephyr). After Abel and Zephyr ceased trading, ORT contracted with YTP for YTP to perform work on the Tridents (the Outer Reef Agreement) (Annex 9). Under the Outer Reef Agreement, which is dated 8 June 2018 and was effective from 15 January 2018, ORT agreed to pay the costs of the work on a time and materials cost plus basis and to make a monthly payment towards the YTP overhead.

Separately the owner of ORT subsequently formed a sister company, EM Yacht Management d.o.o. (EMYM) to take over the work on the Tridents in Split. EMYM then recruited away YTP shareholder Grant Willis who worked with EMYM to select and recruit other staff from YTP and terminated the YTP contract. (Annex 10)

EMYM took a licence to occupy of Shed 4 from Viljac d.o.o. then it closed the doors and denied YTP staff access. The former YTP employees had various tools and equipment that belonged to YTP that they had used when the worked under the Outer Reef Agreement. On various occasions, we found EMYM staff in the YTP spaces taking or seeking to take tools and materials. We demanded return of the assets. Certain EMYM staff were abusive to our staff. We confronted EMYM management and were assured that these issues would be addressed. Certain tools were handed back but I do not know whether this included all the tools. See attached email exchanges (Annex 11).

Abel has now been liquidated. Zephyr is in a bankruptcy procedure. There is litigation outstanding in the US between ORT, Mayhill & Marshall. There is also litigation outstanding in Split between Ekwienox Yachting Limited (a UK company controlled by Mayhill) and EMYM.

2. Present Situation

YTP was unable to sell R55-02 or C65-03. YTP ran into cashflow difficulties and its accounts were blocked. The contracts with Bavaria, Brunswick, Rand and ORT were terminated. YTP stopped trading.

The lease of the Yard at Vranjic was terminated and it is understood that the space is now occupied by Viljac d.o.o., which company has licenced or sub-let to Shed 4 to EMYM and Shed 5 to Corthinx – H2 Catamarans d.o.o.. The directors do not have access to the space and have not had access since late 2018.

ORT terminated the Outer Reef Agreement then a sister company, EMYM, took away the work. EMYM recruited away certain key workers and appears to have seized certain YTP assets.

Some YTP staff were recruited by Corthinx – H2 Catamarans. Others formed a new entity and contracted with Rand Boats initially for design work and subsequently to build.

3. Creditors

The Company's accountant has found alternative employment. The PCs she used to access the system are still at Vranjic under the control of Viljac d.o.o., so far as I am aware, but there is no internet access so she does not have access to the Pantheon accounting system that was previously used and is necessary to produce accounts or a TZ Balance.

She had done some work preparing a TZ Balance at December 2018 but this work is not complete.

I have found in my files a list of sums due to suppliers dated June 2019. (Annex 12) The largest 2 creditors are Brzoglas who provided fibreglass parts of the boats and Salonit, the landlord.

In addition, there were wages due to staff and probably some associated taxes and contributions.

4. Assets

4.1. R55-02.

YTP had a full set of fibreglass parts parts for R55-02 (hull, superstructure, transom etc). The engines were placed inside the hull along with much of the furniture and the superstructure was placed on top. This was as much for efficiency of storages as anything. There was a cage in Shed 6b at Vranijc with equipment for R55-02 (See Area Designations Annex 13).

Under the terms of the Bavaria Settlement Agreement, R55-02 became the property of YTP. It was not however in the books as it has not been acquired as such and there was no acquisition invoice. The materials were provided by Bavaria so it was not treated as work in progress during the build.

I believe that at the time most of the equipment needed to build out the boat was present in the yard. This equipment also belongs to YTP under the terms of the Bavaria Settlement Agreement but is not in the books as an asset. There are images of R55-02 in Shed 5 at the Yard. (Annex 14) Bavaria provided an inventory of equipment it says was delivered to YTP for R55-02 derived from their ERM system in Giebelstadt. (Annex 15) We found that there were commonly discrepancies between the system output and the inventory received into the warehouse. I do not know whether all this equipment was ever delivered or is still there.

We tried to sell R55-02 to Gena Yachts and to Clipper and in the process prepared the attached options list and specification for the boat including the parts that were then available to us. (Annex 16).

4.2. C65 Tooling

Under the terms of the Bavaria Settlement Agreement, the tooling and intellectual property relating to the C65 sailing boat became the property of YTP. It was not however in the books as it has not been acquired as such and there was no acquisition invoice. There was a hull mould, 2 deck moulds and a transom mould. The images I could find are attached. (Annex 17) There may also have been moulds for small parts.

When I last saw the moulds they were standing outside at Vranjic.

4.3. General Bavaria Supplies

YTP also became the owner of all the equipment relating to subsequent C65 boats. Bavaria had ordered C65-03 but work had not begun. Some inventory items were sent is batches so there may have been small parts for C65-03 and subsequent boats.

There was also a supply of fibre glass products although this has a limited shelf life and is probably out of date by now. There was a cage for storing inflammable products such as fibreglass resin at the back of Shed 6a. Other equipment and components for Bavaria boats were kept in a separate also cage in Shed 6a.

I do not expect anything of significant value here.

4.4. 2 x Brunswick Quicksilver 855

The Quicksilver 855 boats in construction were treated as work in progress and recorded in the YTP accounts as an asset. YTP would issue an invoice for the full price on delivery and Brunswick would pay within 14 days of invoice.

At the time YTP ceased trading it was holding 2 x 855 boats, I think hulls 5 and 7. My recollection is that one of these was completed and the second had only minor work (snagging) outstanding. Both were wrapped in protective plastic. When I last saw them they were in Shed 6b. See attached images. (Annex 18)

4.5. Brunswick Quicksilver 855 Parts and Equipment

Brunswick shipped batches of equipment to YTP often for multiple boats. This was stored in a cage in Shed 6a. Brunswick arranged to collect the bulk of the equipment as it belonged to Brunswick. When I last saw it, there remained some equipment in the cage.

In accordance with the contract, the Brunswick Components belong to Brunswick and YTP was obliged to compensate Brunswick should, following an inventory, it be found that any Brunswick Components are missing.

4.6. Small Tools and Supplies

YTP owned small hand tools, electric power tools and other equipment for use in the building process. Most of this equipment is relatively low cost and has a short useful life given the working environment. There was a lock up area at the entrance to Shed 6a that was used for storing power tools.

There was also a lock up store room in the same area that contained supplies used in the building processes.

Some tools were used by former YTP staff who performed work on the Tridents under the ORT Agreement and who were subsequently recruited by EMYM. We made efforts to recover these tools.

2019 BAVARIA R55 FLY | OPPORTUNITY

YACHTING TECHNOLOGY PRODUCTS

BAVARIA R55 FLY | THE OPPORTUNITY

Yachting Technology Products of Croatia contracted with Bavaria Yachtbau to build the new R55 motor yacht at its yard in Split, Croatia. It built the first yacht that was shown by Bavaria at the 2018 Dusseldorf Show and attracted much interest. That yacht was delivered before the Bavaria insolvency was announced in April.

YTP has the second R55 in build and is in active negotiation with a number of parties for its sale. YTP has a full set of FRP parts, the engines and pods installed and a large part of the furniture modules completed. It also has the equipment for a large range of options which will be included in the price. Other Options are available at the Bavaria List Price. For this reason YTP is able to offer a 2019 High Specification Bavaria R55 for sale at substantially below the Bavaria List Price.

As part of the arrangements under which CMP Capital acquired the Bavaria business, YTP has acquired all rights to the Second R55 that it is specifically entitled to brand as a Bavaria R55. A key part of the agreement is that all dealers of Bavaria Yachts are permitted to offer the R55-02 for sale even if they are otherwise exclusive to Bavaria. Bavaria and CMP Capital specifically agreed and undertook that they will not take any steps or enforce any rights to prevent or discourage any person (including any supplier, sales agent or buyer) from doing business... with YTP.
