The Buyer or its representative shall inspect the completeness of the equipment and condition of the Vessel against visible damage or defects i.e. defaults, and that provided general condition of the Vessel complies with common boatbuilding standards. The parties shall sign a Takeover Protocol.

In case of minor aesthetic or functional defaults which do not limit the normal use of the Vessel, the Buyer and the Seller shall either make necessary repairs immediately or make a note of those defaults in the Takeover Protocol and set the reasonable timeframe for their repair. All costs for these repairs including marina berthing/crane or any other in accordance with these repairs have to be paid by the Seller.
